Scotland's Flood Resilience Conference

This Conference, delivered by Verture, is the event of the year for those working on flood resilience. Now in its 22nd year, it provides an unrivalled platform for engaging with an anticipated 800 innovators, leaders and practitioners. This includes government and public sector, consultants and commercial partners as well as communities and individuals.

The 2026 conference will be held at Dynamic Earth in Edinburgh, and will focus on action and next steps for creating a flood resilient Scotland. This is a key opportunity to share best practice, gain new insights, network and be inspired.
